FREW & CAMPBELI

The second the second programmed.

How's speech is still ringing in every control of the second the SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1878.

He has already taken the management of the Pontifical household into his own hands, and has discharged old incompetents and disciplined careless servants. It is added, however, that he is impetutous and irritable, and he lacks that firmness which can only be found in alliance with a caina and equal temper. He is not to be relied upon for conalstency. While he has shown liberal and conciliatory tendencies, letters are extant in which Archibistop Pecci showed himself an implacable and uncompromising foe to the spoilers of the sanctuary, and displayed the small of one more Popish than the Pope himself. It is as yet, therefore, wholly a matter of uncertainty how Leo XIII. will get along with the Italian Government, and how far he will patronize the Ultramontanes.

of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad has developed the fact that the company does not own the road from Huron to Milan, both of which villages are in Sandusky county. The distance between those places is eight miles. It appears that the law was wholly ignored in establishing that portion of the line, which, under the charter, was a branch, and which should have been adopted at a regularly called meeting of the stockholder and the result for warded to the Secretary of State for record. This, however, was not done, and the discovery has just been made that Contractor Wilson, of New York, and a few subscribers to the capital stock at Huron, legally own the road between the villages named. The property is valued at $50 000. The Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad Co, proper now owns only four miles of finished road on the northern end of the line—that portion between Milan, Sandusky county, and Norwalk, Ruron county.

That Grant is the Coming Man.
